Dear Eric:

I send herewith Mr Johnson's annotations which I reported to you. Please be sure to return it to him should you see him in New York. If you do not plan to see him, then return it to him by mail, at his New York address if you have it, as he will probably want to take the matter up with Mr Davis there this week unless pressure of other business rules it out.

The danger at this stage is that Mr Davis is a man of quick, hair-trigger judgment and he might quite likely draw back on the conditions we have
