made. Personally I feel it unwise to run this very possible risk because think the essentials are guarded otherwise. Apparently you & Leighton felt so too, for the tentative agreement with Harvard that you presented did not include such items if I remember correctly.

I had no thought of touching this matter when I made my usual call on Mr Johnson. It came up quite incidentally. My purpose was to bring him up to date on buildings, architecture etc & to keep his mind on our "Grad & Tutor" needs, which, I am happy to say, I think he is doing. Ever truly H.P.H.
