Formal Opening

C. T. LUDINGTON
ATLANTIC BUILDING
PHILADELPHIA

December 4th, 1928.

Mr. E. M. McBrier,
150 Fifth Ave.,
New York City.

My dear Mr. McBrier:

I have your letter with regard to the plans for the dedication of the new plant the first week in October, 1929. I have been talking the matter over with Mrs. Ludington and I think it is highly possible that we might be able to go out to China at this time especially if we could tie up with friends who might be going the same way.

We expect to spend a part of the summer in California and might be able to leave in September returing the latter part of October. Please do not interpret this in anyway as a definite promise of my going as I have no way of knowing what matters may come up in my own business which might keep me at home.

Should we carry through this plan I shall probably want to presume on your kindness as to the best rates, reservations, etc.

Sincerely,

C. T. Ludington
